This 20-hour outdoor course is oriented toward teaching basic skills necessary in providing initial and extended care when 9-1-1 is not available. To receive recognition of completion, you must complete the entire course. This is an American Red Cross certification in Wilderness & Remote First Aid. Course content is “hands on” in a simulated backpack outing format to give you some valuable skills in backcountry emergencies and critical thinking on how you “might” handle them. Knowledge, common sense, and good judgment will prevail in the backcountry. The course includes program materials and recognition. This course fulfills the WFA requirement to attend Philmont and other BSA High Adventure Bases and presented by the SGVC-HAT.
